President - June

“Time flies like an arrow; fruit flies like a banana.” – Groucho Marx

As summer is ending, it's time to plan your projects for the holidays. My problem is my siblings no longer want the stuff I make. They're downsizing and don't have the room for anymore blankets or scarves. Well, to that I say too bad. If I go through the work of making stuff, they have to take them. I need to cultivate more friends in cold climates who would appreciate wool scarves. Are you making treasures for relatives or friends?

Vice President – Gillian B.

This is rather long this month. If you are planning on coming to the September meeting, please be sure to read the info about the September program and what supplies to bring.

At our August meeting Cathy M. showed us how to make fleece blankets with a crochet edging. Thank you to Cathy for a very well-organized program! If you are making blankets for charity, Cathy will be collecting them. She sent us a message with details as to where they will go, which is attached to this newsletter. Note that if you want your blanket to go to a specific charity on her list, she asks that you attach a label.

At the meeting, Cathy showed us some blankets she had made including two very handsome dog coats for her rescue greyhounds. There are adorable pictures of them wearing their coats and looking very stylish elsewhere in this newsletter.

Program Change:

Due to staffing issues (me), we will be changing around the upcoming September and October programs. Here's the updated list for the rest of the year:

SEP: STRETCHY CAST ONS REVISITED (previously in October) Gillian B.

OCT: CROCHET FLEECE BLANKET CONTINUATION Cathy McF.

NOV: CONTRAST VERTICAL STRANDING Mary Beth

DEC: HOLIDAY PARTY 12/20/2025
